nulla. Donec luctus. Curabitur et nunc. Aliquam dolor odio, commodo pretium, ultricies non, pharetra in, velit. Integer arcu est, nonummy in, fermentum faucibus, egestas vel, odio.

Tables should be centred on the page, with the `\caption{}` at the bottom. Captions and alignment of figures should be the same as for table.

Table 1 – The *an rhyme in Muishaung

Table 1 is using the `booktabs` style. This may need to be changed since it doesn't currently match the previous Word template design.

For syntax trees and other tree diagrams, use `tikzpicture` within a `figure` environment:

Images as figures can be done with the `graphicsx` package. The following is a png image showing a syntax tree.

When using images for figures, be sure to set the width of the figure to an appropriate value. The source image should also be high enough resolution that it does not look blurry when added to the document.

Complex figures such as pitch contour diagrams may require additional packages. If such are needed, please contact the editors in order to make the necessary arrangements.

3. Glossing

Glossing is handled with the `linguex` and `cgloss` packages. Abbreviations should be lowercase and contained in a `\textsc{}` tag for small capital letters. The following is from van Dam (forthcoming)

- (1) kaʔ₄ ko₂ nɣ₂ tə₀-no₁ fuu₁
 down towards PREP CAUS-extend.horiz IMP
 ‘point [something] downwards’

References to examples/glossing are handled in the same way as figures, for example here referring to Example (1) above. The `\label{}` tag can be placed on any line of the example.

4. Conclusion

After your conclusion, first list abbreviations (if any), and then references. Consult the references for the type of reference you need, e.g., a book (Anderson 2007); a paper in a proceedings publication (DeLancey 2002); a journal article (Haokip, 2012; Peterson, 1998); an unpublished manuscript (Hyslop 2010); a dissertation (Hyslop 2011); an edited volume (Morey and Post 2008); a chapter in an edited volume (Peterson 2003); a conference presentation (Post 2008); or a website (Sadokpam 2008).

Abbreviations

CAUS	Causative prefix
IMP	Imperative marker
PREP	Preposition
